THE STAY AT HOME PARTY.

In North Carolina since the war, an unusual proportion of our voting population stay away from the polls.

Many well-meaning, intelligent, honest men seem to have no regard for the welfare and best interests of the State if we are to judge from their strange and unaccountable conduct.

People decline to vote for various causes. Some are disgusted with politics, and refuse to take any part in any election, State or national. Others are crushed in spirit and politically demoralized. These have become discouraged by the repeated oppressions and outrages by the Federal government, and have come to the conclusion that all protests against such crimes will be unavailing. Others assert they have been voting all their lives and have never made anything by it, and do not see what benefit they will ever derive from casting their ballots. Others, from sheer carelessness or indifference, neglect to go to the polls. Others still feel that their private business at home is too important to be subordinated to politics, and will not give a single day to their country, although the property, rights and liberties of each and every citizen may be imperiled, and the highest interests of the whole country involved.

But whatever may be the motives operating on different individuals or different classes of individuals, to cause them to refuse to exercise one of the most sacred prerogatives of freemen, the right of the elective franchise, certain it is that North Carolina owes all her present woes and carpet bag outrages to the fact that large numbers of the white voters of the State have taken no part in politics since the war, but have allowed the elections to go by default in favor of the Radicals.

It is painful for us to say this, but it is true. Our mother State has been robbed and despoiled on account of the criminal indifference of her sons.

Carpet-bag thieves could never have consummated their schemes of spoliation and plunder, if the white men of North Carolina had known and used their strength.

Littlefield, Swenson & Co., would have found no mercenary and venal Legislature, if the people of the State had been truly represented in the General Assembly.

The State Convention of 1868, which framed the Radical Constitution, and the Legislature of 1868-'9, which was brought up with two hundred and forty thousand dollars of bribe-money, would never have brought the blush of shame to the cheeks of honest North Carolinians, if the public voice had spoken at the ballot-box.

The Conservatives who have heretofore taken no part in the elections are equally responsible with the Radical party for all the trouble that has come upon

North Carolina since the war. The stay-at-home party is responsible for the present pitiable condition of the State. It is responsible for the crimes which Radicalism conceived and so successfully consummated. It is responsible for the railroad swindles by which North Carolina was plunged irretrievably in debt, her credit prostrated, and her name blurred with dishonor.

If our State has suffered intensely—if her character has been tarnished—if her Legislatures have been corrupt—if her Governors have been despotic and lawless—if her laws have been unjust and oppressive—if her University and her public schools have felt the hand of decay and been prostrated by mismanagement and incompetency—if her very interest has languished and her prosperity been sapped by the reign of carpet-bag reconstruction, history will hold accountable for these atrocious and infamous wrongs those native North Carolinians who refused to hear the voice of their mother State when she implored their aid and assistance, but saw her insulted, crushed down and trampled in the dust, without lifting their arms to parry the blow—without baring their bosoms to her foes and smiting down the ruthless spoilers of her power, her wealth and her honor!

We have another contest close at hand. On one side are arrayed the friends of good government and Constitutional liberty—honest men and patriots who desire to preserve and perpetuate the principles on which the American Republic was founded; on the other side are arrayed the office-holders and their friends, who are bent upon the re-election of a President whose administration for the past four years has been the most corrupt and venal in the history of this country—harboring official thieves, prostituting the offices of the people for personal ends, and crushing the energies and hopes of the impoverished South by a system of hostile legislation which finds no parallel in the annals of civilized government.

The people of North Carolina will be called upon to decide on the fifth day of November whether or not they will approve the despotic acts of Grant's Administration, and whether they are willing to give him a new lease of power for four years longer!

We believe if a complete vote is brought out, North Carolina, by at least twenty thousand majority, would protest against the unexampled venality, nepotism, usurpation and cruelty of the national Administration.

If Horace Greeley shall not carry the State in November, the stay-at-home party will be responsible for our defeat.

The stay-at-home party has much to answer for in the past. Let it make amends for its short-comings by a faithful performance of its duties in the future.

It may not retrieve all the wrongs which it has permitted. It may not be able to remedy the evils which have been inflicted upon the State, but it can prevent future outrages and assist in mitigating the calamities which its own folly and neglect have brought upon our people.

OUR HONOR IS PLEDGED.

Horace Greeley, since his nomination at Baltimore, has borne himself in such a manner as to deserve the highest praise. He has elevated himself immeasurably by his patriotic and generous utterances on the stump. He has exhibited remarkable ability and statesmanship and has illustrated in a marked degree his competency and fitness for the exalted position of President of the United States.

Many Democrats who came to his support with reluctance, speak in enthusiastic terms of his noble bearing and fine judgment, and their lukewarmness has given way to an active, hearty, zealous endorsement.

Mr. Greeley has proved himself to be worthy of the vote of every true Southern man. He is a bold and eloquent advocate for amnesty and reconciliation, and his election will give quietude to the Southern States.

But at all even's, our honor is pledged to his support. His nomination was frantically insisted on by several Southern delegations at Baltimore, particularly Virginia, and it was made to gratify the South.

He is our nominee. He has shown himself a noble champion of the South. He invokes the spirit of national reconciliation and justice. He pleads for the restoration of fraternal concord and the enfranchisement of the white as well as the black race. He is opposed to further oppressive measures against our section.

Every Democrat and Liberal Republican should vote for Horace Greeley.

Our honor—the honor of the South—is pledged. Let no man refuse to vote because he may think ours is a hopeless cause. It is NOT HOPELESS. But if it was, our pledged faith demands that we should all vote for Greeley and Brown.

He is pleading our cause. He is receiving the taunts, ridicule and censure of the North because he dares to stand up before the country, and demand justice for the desolated South.

It is wrong to refuse to vote for him now. More than ever he is entitled to our hearty, unwavering support.

Democrats of the South! Your honor is pledged.

The people of the South have never violated their sacred honor. They will not prove false to a friend in the hour of danger and trial. Though others desert him, they will stand by Horace Greeley. They will not abandon him because, forsooth, some imagine that he may not be elected.

It is a duty we all owe him now, to rally with unflinching hearts to his support. We cannot do less. We must support him. Remember, OUR HONOR IS PLEDGED!

WILL NOT VOTE FOR GREELY.

There are some Democrats who on account of their prejudices towards Mr. Greeley, are disposed to take no part in the election. Occasionally we hear of an instance where one of this class expresses his determination not to vote at all.

To such we would say, it is their duty to vote for the regular nominee of the Democratic Convention.

The National Democratic Convention which assembled at Baltimore was the largest ever held by the party. Every Congressional District in the United States was fully represented. By a unanimity unprecedented, Greeley and Brown were presented as our nominees for President and Vice-President of the United States. The party pledged itself to their support, and it is the duty of all true Democrats to stand by party organization.

But if there be some Democrats whose prejudices against Mr. Greeley are so great that they cannot be overcome, still it is their duty to vote against Grant. They can do as Gen. Early advised his friends to do in Virginia, who could not conscientiously vote for Greeley—they can tear off Greeley's name, and vote for our Electors. This will not be voting for Greeley directly—but for Jarvis and Pou, and the District Electors, who will afterwards cast the vote of the State, provided they are elected.

We suggest this plan to those who cannot bring their minds to the conclusion to vote for a former political opponent, notwithstanding the fact that he is now the nominee of their party.

Thus talks the Courier-Journal. "After the Battle": The army that lays down its arms because it has met a reverse is unworthy of the cause it defends. In this cowardly spirit had prevailed in the Federal army in 1861, the rebellion would never have been suppressed. If the Confederate army had yielded to such a spirit, history would not have recorded four years of heroic strife. In the darkest hours of the Revolution, our forefathers never once lost faith in the ultimate success of their cause. The abolitionists hopelessly struggled for years against the power of slavery, but they lived to see the day when all men were free. The Republican defeat of 1856 only nerved that party for greater efforts, and for the past twelve years they have ruled our country. The road to success is always through adversity, and it is only the craven-hearted who are appalled by obstacles in their path and ignominiously sink by the way.

Mr. Greeley Declines.—There was every reason to believe that we should have Mr. Greeley present to deliver the address at our Agricultural Fair, which commences to-morrow. The only thing that rendered his visit at all uncertain was the condition of his wife, who has been an invalid for some time past. On Friday evening the editor of this paper received a letter from him saying: "My wife is evidently sinking. I think she cannot see another Sunday morning. Of course I cannot go anywhere or say anything."

Yours, &c.,
HORACE GREELY.

The public will share the disappointment we feel, and sympathize with Mr. Greeley in his great affliction.—Lynchburg Virginian.

The Victoria Cross, the highest military honor which an English officer can receive, has been conferred by the queen upon Lieut. Col. Donald Macintyre for his courageous conduct in the Lushai expedition upon the 4th of January. He is said to have scaled the village of Lushai, on the 4th of January. He is said to have scaled over the stockade, which stood some ten feet high, and under the heavy fire of the Lushais, pushed his way through the flames and smoke of the burning ruins, and captured the place.

An astonishing fall of rain occurred at Buchanan recently. It had been a cloudless and uncommonly hot day, and in the evening, while the inhabitants were out for a walk and the gardens were crowded, suddenly a cloud appeared, and shortly after rain began to fall—a rain of an extraordinary description, for the shower consisted of small black worms of the size of an ordinary fly. The streets were strewn with these singular creatures.

The Tribune publishes the official vote of Pennsylvania: Hartant, 345,264; Backalew, 309,527—Hartant's majority, 35,737. In 1868, when Hartant ran for auditor, his vote was 331,416, against 321,739 for Boyle. The increase in the vote has been only 1,633.

Thos. D. O'Rear, of Fauquier county, committed suicide on the 9th by hanging himself in his barn. No cause was known. He had been rather melancholy for a few weeks, but was in his usual health, and was attending to his business as usual.

Hon. Thomas A. Hendricks is the first Democratic Governor elected in Indiana since 1856. He has three times been a candidate—in 1860, in 1868 and in 1872.

Forney's Press follows the wake of the New York Tribune, announcing that while in the land supporting the Republican party it will hereafter be an independent newspaper.

Frenchmen in New York appeal to their countrymen in the United States for aid for the many emigrants from Alsace and Lorraine, who are coming to this country.

Mayor Medill, of Chicago, has proclaimed against spirituous alcoholic liquors and liquor selling on Sundays. He says liquor dealers must go to church and spiritualists must pay license.

This brick building owned and occupied by Falconer & Son, of Wilmington, was destroyed by fire Saturday night. Loss nearly $10,000.

Fanny Fern, in addition to being the sister of N. P. Willis and the wife of James Parton, was the mother-in-law of Doesticks.

STATE MATTERS.

The Journal says the streets of Wilmington are dry—drier—drier.

The Franklin Courier comes to us enlarged and otherwise improved.

Cotton brought 17 cents in Warren last week. So says the Gazette.

The Newbern Daily Times has commenced publishing the press dispatches.

HARRY MACARTHY will appear in Wilmington on the 24th, 25th and 26th insts.

The new Goldsboro Hotel is nearly completed, and will be a most handsome building.

Gov. VANCE speaks in Winston and Salem next week, and at other places before the election.

The health of Mrs. Greeley will probably prevent the Honorable Horace Greeley from visiting Charlotte this week, as anticipated.

The Rev. Taylor Martin, of Granville county, will open the Simonton Female College, Statesville, about the 1st of January next.

The Statesville Intelligencer understands that the Rev. Taylor Martin, of Granville county, will take charge of the Female College in Statesville, and open it about the first of January.

The Southern Home complains that Grant's voters in that city are imitating the "Credit Mobilier" system—they are laying in supplies of wood, vegetables, &c., from the premises of other people, for the winter.

The editor of the Statesville Intelligencer threatens to burn up all of his chairs if some of his subscribers don't furnish him with a load of wood. At last accounts a load of wood was seen in front of his door, and the editor had headed an article, "Peace to the ashes."

Says the Charlotte Democrat of yesterday: "1,504 bales were sold in this market last week. Thursday, Friday and Saturday 1,035 bales were brought into the city and sold—the price closing on Saturday for best grade at 17½ to 17¾. The business of the place is more than double for same time last year."

The Warrenton Gazette says: "The Weldon Fair, which begins on the 29th, promises to be the best in the State. Many entries have been made, and the officers have determined to make the exhibition first class. The premiums will not be awarded to favorites, but merit will be made the test. Everybody expects to go, and everybody will be there."

We are pleased to learn from the Charlotte Democrat that North Carolina has won honors at the late St. Louis Fair. Says the Democrat: "Mr. Baxter H. Moore and W. R. Burwell, of this county, sent two bales of cotton for exhibition to the Fair at St. Louis, Missouri, held on the 8th inst. We have been shown a letter from a gentleman in St. Louis to Messrs. Moore and Burwell, stating that their cotton took the second and third premiums, $350 and $100. The same letter also states that Mr. James Means, of Concord, N. C., took the first premium of $500 on cotton. Pretty good for old Mecklenburg and Cabarrus."

The Wilmington Journal thus speaks of the death of the daughter of a gentleman intimately connected with the history of North Carolina in the past:

"Her maiden name was Jones." In these few words we find the only reference to her distinguished parentage, contained in the obituary notice of the widow of ANDREW JOYNER, whose death a few days ago destroyed one of the last links that bound the old-time to the new. "Time is old and hath forgot itself" in every deed when the announcement of the death of a child of WILLIE JONES stirs up no other memory of by-gone days than the fact that "her maiden name was Jones."

Time was, when people did not need to be told who WILLIE JONES was; but time hath forgot itself, and North Carolina hath forgot herself, in forgetting her once honored and favorite son. Shame upon us that this is so; a burning shame and disgrace, not to the dead, but to the living, for us not to remember one of the greatest and one of the most honored men that ever was born or lived upon the soil of North Carolina!

Who was Willie Jones?

History tells us he was a faithful servant of his country in her struggle for independence from British rule; a statesman and scholar as well. He was President of the Committee of Safety for the whole State in 1776, and served by virtually Governor of the State in the interval between the abdication of Governor Martin, the last of the Royal Governors, and the accession of Governor Caswell. He was a member of the Continental Congress that met at Philadelphia in 1780, and served until 1781. He was elected a member of the Convention that formed the Constitution of the United States, but declined to serve. He was a member of the State Convention that met in Hillsboro in 1788, to consider the Federal Constitution; and, as is well known, through his influence, that Constitution was rejected by a vote of 184 to 84, in spite of the learning of Irredell, the eloquence of Davis and the intellectual power of Johnston. For several years also he was a member of the House of Commons.

Such is a scant record of the long, public life of Willie Jones. And yet the man and his record are to day completely forgotten, and it is deemed sufficient, in announcing the death of his daughter, to tell the world that "her maiden name was Jones."

But it would be ungrateful to our own feelings, least, to conclude without bearing testimony to the lovely character of the venerable lady whose death has called forth these remarks. No higher encomium can be passed upon her, than to say she was as remarkable for the graces and virtues that adorn a woman, as maiden, wife and mother, as her distinguished father was for those sterner qualities that go to make up the patriot and the statesman. It was written of her many years ago, she was one of the loveliest women of her age. She was loved by all who knew her. None so loved her but admire her.

To the hour of her death these words bore true record of the distinguished daughter of one of Carolina's most distinguished sons!

THERE was snow in Jefferson, N. C., on Monday, the 14th.

The mountain boys girls are "sassy." The chestnut crop is excellent.

The friends of Reform and Reconciliation had a fine meeting at Alexander's, Mecklenburg county on Thursday last. Addresses were made by Capt. R. P. Waring, Senator elect from that county, P. B. Means, Esq., of Cabarrus and Capt. A. Barwell, of Charlotte. The very best feeling prevailed.

A SPECIAL from Greensboro to the Era, under date of Monday at noon, says: "The property called Edgeworth, formerly used as a female seminary, but lately as a residence by Julius A. Gray, and belonging to him, took fire this morning from the burning out of a chimney. The entire building will be consumed. The building is burning now. It is likely that a dwelling in the rear, formerly occupied by one of the Professors of the seminary, will be saved, and the kitchen also. Mr. Gray was insured for ten thousand dollars."

We are indebted to the Goldsboro Messenger and Statesville Intelligencer for the following compliments, and take the liberty of reproducing them:

"We called at the office of the News, and found brothers Williams, Stone and Woodson at their posts, and we were glad to hear that the News is meeting with more than anticipated success. But why should it not? It is certainly one of the very best newspapers in the State, and reflects credit on our metropolitan city. The editors are all young, energetic and talented men, and the good-headedness displayed by all of them means success."—Goldsboro Messenger.

"We cannot speak in terms of sufficient praise of the able manner in which the Raleigh News is conducted. Its editors seem to be impressed with the most advanced ideas of successful journalism, and spare no pains to make their paper all that should be expected of it. Its editorials are written with marked ability and its news columns are filled with the very latest telegraphic and other news. Success to it!"—Statesville Intelligencer.

Mass Meeting and Barbecue in Chatham County.

The friends of Greeley and Brown met on the 10th inst., at J. T. Jones' store, in the Western part of the county of Chatham, in a grand mass meeting and Liberal rally. The meeting was called to order by Col. James A. Houston, the President of the Township, (Matthews) and the object of the meeting explained by O. A. Hanner, Esq., our worthy young Representative in the House. Mr. Hanner, in a neat and appropriate style, welcomed the vast concourse of people (over five hundred) on behalf of the club, and introduced as the first speaker, J. G. Rencher, Esq., of Pittsboro. Mr. R. addressed the crowd for more than an hour, in which time he fully showed up the Grant administration to the entire satisfaction of all present. After Mr. Rencher's speech, the crowd was next addressed by the Hon. E. W. Poul, of Johnston. Want of space prevents my giving anything like a synopsis of Mr. Poul's speech, suffice it to say, it was to the point, and fully justified the enviable reputation of the Honorable gentleman. At the conclusion of the speech, many of the assembly pressed eagerly forward to shake the speaker by the hand, and assured him that like himself, although they had supported the Republican party heretofore, they were now fully identified with the Liberal movement, and should vote for Greeley and Brown in November.

The vast concourse of people now repaired to the tables in the grove, upon which was spread a bountiful repast, and after having done ample justice to the good cheer provided by the Club, they again assembled at the speaker's stand, and were addressed by H. A. London, Esq., our able young elector for the 4th District. We have heard Mr. London often, but believe this to have been the happiest effort of his life. We would like very much to report his speech in full, but have not the time so to do. We will only add, that the "little critter fairly spread himself." Well may Chatham feel proud of her young orator. After Mr. London concluded his remarks, loud calls were made for Hon. John Manning. Mr. Manning came forward and thanked the crowd for their kindness, but owing to the lateness of the hour, excused himself from making a speech. The assemblage then dispersed, and at night many of the young ladies and gentlemen resorted to the hospitable mansion of Dr. L. W. Gorrell, and to the strain of sweet music we tripped the light fantastic until the warning notes of chattering admonition said that it was time for Greeleyites to tear themselves away from the society of love and beauty, and seek the arms of Morpheus.

We have witnessed many occasions of the kind, but have never seen anything pass off more pleasantly and agreeably: the very best of order was maintained throughout, and much credit is due the chief marshal, O. A. Hanner, Esq., and his worthy assistants, Col. John R. Lane, J. P. Brooks, M. F. White, Geo. P. Dark, Charles E. Houston and J. Geo. Hanner, for their efficient management.

You may expect a good report from old Chatham in November. All are up and doing their duty. Our club in this township numbers upwards of two hundred members, with the following officers: President, Col. Jos. A. Houston; Vice Presidents, Merritt Rossen, W. D. Andrews, T. J. Phillips and B. F. Headen; Treasurer, J. P. Jones; Secretary, J. Geo. Hanner.

Keep the ball in motion, and victory will assuredly perch upon our banner in November.

THE WORLD'S FAIR TO BE HELD AT
Raleigh, Thursday, October 24.
OLD JOHN ROBINSON'S

GREAT TRAVELING MUSEUM, MENAGERIE, CARAVAN, AND HIPPODROME, COMBINED WITH THE GRAND

AND MAMMOTH CIRCUS IN FOUR TO TEN TENTS.

As the space of the grounds will permit JOHN ROBINSON, Prop'r and Gen. Director, JOHN ROBINSON, Jr., Manager.

Twelve Superior Shows in One.

All for a Single Price of Admission. In the collection and organization of the Museum the utmost care has been taken to gratify and enlighten the public by presenting in One Vast Assemblage an accumulation of such objects as have never been attempted elsewhere.

It is estimated that in the Aquarium, Museum, Menagerie and Hippodrome there are Twenty-Three Thousand Curiosities.

These Stupendous Combinations have been brought together at an actual cost to the Proprietor of more than a million of dollars, which is ten times more than was ever invested in a single show.

With One Hundred Horses, Ponies, Camels, Mules, Exotic Birds, Monkeys, Tigers, Lions, Leopards, and many other animals.

Actual service of nearly two thousand men and horses. It is furthermore conducted by a staff of the most competent judges.

While the management is very emphatic in the statement that the exhibition is the aggregate of J. Robinson's World's Fair has more real and solid attractions, merit and value, with a greater variety of marvels and features than is generally contained in twenty ordinary shows.

In order that the public may be able to form an approximate conception of the magnitude of this concern, we have the statement that which will be qualified at any time—the daily expenses attending John Robinson's Exhibition are three times more than the gross receipts of any of the self-styled first-class shows in America.

It is, therefore, to be expected that the largest ever seen on earth.

It is respectfully solicited the attention of the reader to the following enumeration of only the leading features of the Great Exhibition, as we have not the space to mention the multitudinous details.

Among the entire Exposition so amazingly abundant, we have the following: The Egyptian Croco, the twenty feet long; a Texas Steer with three horns and eyes; an Edgewise Hog, that can read and talk; the largest Elephant in the world—actual weight five tons; a drove of Camels, Bullfrogs, Bismarck Cattle, Camels, &c.

TESTIMONIALS.

WAKE FOREST COLLEGE, N. C.
MIL. JAS. PIRSON:
SIR:—The Piano which I purchased from you in September, 1870, is a very superior one.

It has been frequently tested by competent judges, all of whom give unequivocal testimony to its excellence. I could not ask for a better instrument.

Very Respectfully,
W. G. SIMMONS.
